Preventing Abuse... in Today's Economy

Crimes affecting seniors and dependent adults can happen any-time, but today's financial woes are causing even more vulnerability. Scams are on the rise while families are struggling with their own financial difficulties. Lost retirement funds and investments have put some seniors at risk from "get rich quick schemes" in the hopes of replacing their dwindling nest eggs. This seminar will help professionals, seniors, dependent adults and their loved ones learn how to identify who is at risk and what can be done to protect this vulnerable population.

Seminar participants will learn:

? To identify the vulnerability factors that place a person at risk for abuse

? How to identify potential abusers

? Resources that are available to help minimize the risk of abuse
